Revere® Offers Fabricators Convenient One-stop Shopping
Convenience Meets Quality with Revere's Collection of Stainless Steel Sinks and Accessories

OAK BROOK, IL – May 2008 – Homeowners are moving away from tile countertops in favor of natural stone and solid surfaces, as noted in recent article on hgtv.com, driving fabricators to meet increased demand by completing a growing number of installations without sacrificing quality. To help fabricators get the job done right and move on to the next project, Revere Sink offers a complete line of undermount and top-mount stainless steel sinks and accessories that are delivered on time to enhance the look of today's most popular countertop material choices including, granite, limestone, Jerusalem stone, solid surface and quartz.

In addition to a wide selection of undermount and top-mount sinks, Revere also offers accessories that complement each model, allowing the fabricator to customize each installation for the homeowner while also increasing profits through incremental upgrades. Among the accessories offered to help achieve the perfect fit and increase the functionality of the sink, are cutting boards, bottom grids and strainers.

Cutting Boards

Not only is customization key in today's home, but many homeowners are also seeking ways to maximize utility of their workspace in the kitchen. Cutting boards that fit over the sink bowl allow homeowners to use counter space for other food prep tasks, while also helping to keep clean-up to a minimum. The RCB1516 from Revere is an attractive, hardwood cutting board that is designed to fit undermount sinks with a reveal. This model fits sink bowls with inside bowl dimensions of 14 inches by 15 ¾ inches.
