

TheDoings

Techy talk

Daniel Rodriguez, the senior vice president of North American sales and marketing at Lab Volt, discusses a solar/wind energy training system during the National Coalition of Advanced Technology Centers Conference at the College of DuPage Friday. Other guest speakers such as Tim Jahnke, CEO of Elkay Companies in OakBrook, also spoke during the three day conference. (Suzanne Tennant/For STNG)

Robert Canella, instructor at the College of DuPage, demonstrates robotics that will be used for classroom instruction in the college's new technology and education center at the National Coalition of Advanced Technology Centers Conference Friday. Throughout the week various workshops and round tables were held at the college's campus and at the Oak Brook Hills Marriott Resort. (Suzanne Tennant/For STNG)